The specifics as to the alternating cohort to which your child belongs will be provided within the next few days. However, all students will participate in a full day of instruction each day. For students in each the Paramus or Garfield locations, teachers will live teach the group. For students learning remotely, teachers will live stream lessons throughout the school day using the Zoom Platform. Regardless of whether students are participating in live teaching or remote learning, all students will have full access to the entire Springboard Curriculum.

The district re-opening plan is an on-going process and subject to change as directed by the New Jersey Department of Education or as dictated by changing circumstances of the COVID-19 pandemic.
